

The Duck Was Interested

EVEN THE ducks seem interested in what the latest spring fashions are. Or so it seems here as Patricia Wall, 2, left, and her sister, Kathleen, 4, model clothes they will wear at a Sew 'n Sew fashion show to be held by the Holy Angels' Women's Guild at 8 p.m. Friday at the church parish hall. With the girls is their mother, Mrs. Peter Wall. The family lives at 1 Ridgefield Avenue, Daly City. (Post-Times Photo)

Responding to a question about special problems which concern him now, the mayor observed: "One of my primary interests is acquisition of Pedro Beach at Linda Mar for public property—city owned." He also is interested in seeing that Pacifica has as many parks as possible.

Roaring Fire Destroys All Souls Church

Flames broke out in the 51-year-old church around 9:15 a.m. Wednesday and roared out of control for two hours.

Some 100 firefighters from South San Francisco, Daly City, San Bruno, and Brisbane were at the scene.

The fire completely gutted the structure, ruining almost all of the church's records.

Thick clouds of smoke were visible to residents as far as the East Bay.

Students in nearby All Souls School did not have to be evacuated but left the building anyway and sadly watched the flames consume their church.

During the height of the battle to save the church, a half dozen firemen escaped death or serious injury when the steeple toppled from the Walnut Avenue side and pushed out the front of the building on Miller Avenue.

The firemen, struggling with hose lines on the sidewalk in front of the building, dashed to safety just before the steeple came down.

Msgr. Gallagher said he was in the parlor talking with a parishoner when two secretaries rushed in and said the church was filling with smoke.

The pastor rushed toward the altar in an attempt to save the Holy Sacraments but was driven back by thick smoke. He then rushed into the adjoining convent and removed the Blessed Sacrament.

During the early part of the fire, several firemen escaped temporarily from smoke inhalation but were revived at the scene with oxygen.

Assistant Fire Chief Al Brauns of South San Francisco said the blaze apparently started in a basement electrical room or a boiler room and soon mushroomed up through the church.

Coast Guard Rescues Duo

Shepard, of 555 Vista Mar, and Harris, of 715 Edgemoor Drive, were dumped into the choppy sea. They managed to right the raft and climb back aboard.

But Harris was numb from the cold and Shepard was forced to paddle alone against what he knew to be overwhelming odds.

As he struggled to reach shore with the raft, a Coast Guard helicopter on another mission spotted the yellow craft.

Coast Guard Lt. Donald A. Nystrom was at the controls of the aircraft.

The chopper made several low passes over the raft to determine who was aboard. Then Lt. Nystrom and Crewman Fred van den Broeck hovered the helicopter over the raft and lowered a rescue basket.

Harris was the first to be lifted into the aircraft. After a few more attempts Shepard also was hoisted aboard.

The helicopter then returned to the South San Francisco Coast Guard Station.

very severe criticism of the type that I resented."

Chess said he felt especially bad about a column written about the situation in a San Francisco newspaper in which the accusation of anti-semitism was made quite clear.

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald called the attack on the board "the most vicious thing I've ever seen" and said he finally made the motion to approve the permit "in thorough disgust."

placed from its temple on Los Banos Avenue in Daly City by highway construction and used the money paid by the city to buy a new site on Annie Street, just outside the city limits.

This was after the county commission had granted a variance which was needed because the property had only 15,000 square feet instead of the required 20,000.

A neighbor appealed to the board, however, and the permit was withdrawn by the supervisors who insisted that the ordinance be upheld.

The board was subjected to considerable pressure, however, and finally changed its stand and restored the permit.

At the meeting Thursday Chess singled out a letter from a Roman Catholic priest as typifying the type of criticism the board had received.

The letter from the Right Rev. Msgr. Richard W. Power, pastor of Our Lady of Mercy of Westlake Church states in part:

"As our country is based on the belief of the existence of a creator, it is hard to understand why any individual or a group of individuals would object to the erection of a church or synagogue in any given locality."

"Last November the world was taught a lesson of what hate could do to America. As a result all Americans, worthy of the name Americans, solemnly pledged to dispel all hate and bigotry from their hearts."

"Any community which can not find a place for God or His commandments is telling God, in no uncertain terms, we can live without You."

"The excuse that there is not enough property is in itself deplorable because of the simple fact that the Creator, whom we are denying, gave us everything."

"I don't want to be accused of bias or prejudice," Chess declared. "We were subjected to

Daly City Boy, 4, Chokes To Death on Piece of Corn

A piece of corn caused a four-year-old Daly City boy to choke to death Thursday afternoon, according to deputy county coroner Robert Cole.

The victim, who appeared to be suffering from malnutrition and dehydration, police reported, was Douglas Hoppe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hoppe of 651 Crocker Avenue, Daly City.

Police said, however, there was no indication of misconduct, abuse or lack of care on the part of the parents. Results of a toxicological study were pending.

Investigators said the malnutrition may possibly have been attributed to the boy's inability to keep food in his stomach.

Doctors in Reno, where the boy was undergoing treatment until the family moved to Daly City six months ago, said the boy's pituitary glands were underdeveloped and he was a dwarf.

Although he was four, he had

Parents Back Coaches' Bid

at athletic events made up a major portion of a presentation made by Michael Tugendreich, spokesman for Local 1481, Jefferson District Federated Teachers (JDFDT).

The proposals said that such teachers should be paid at the same rate as first year night school teachers for hours spent following the end of the regular teaching day.

Some of the money necessary for this program, especially in the area of sports and dance supervision, might come from student body funds, according to the union group's recommendation.

Also delivered to the board Monday night were salary recommendations of the Jefferson Union High School Teachers' Association (JUHSUTA) and pay increase requests from the district's purchasing agent, cafeteria workers and other part time employees.

All the proposals, which could amount to an increase of $312,000 in the district's budget, were taken under consideration by the trustees and the administrative staff.

Several members of the audience made appeals to the board on behalf of the extra pay for coaches request, which was tabled by the board at its last meeting.

The board, however, proceeded with its original agenda. It heard the request from JDFDT for an across the board increase to teachers of $375 annually plus additional benefits covering sick leave, health policies and the extra pay proposal.

The JUHSUTA proposal did not make reference to the extra pay issue.

Huge Patio Is Planned In Westlake

The Westlake Shopping Center, and in particular its mall, will become a huge landscaped patio, beginning next Wednesday.

It's all part of a 1964 garden patio exhibit, sponsored by center merchants from next Wednesday through May 10. The exhibit will be the first of its kind undertaken in the shopping complex.

A select group of landscape architects, contractors and nurserymen will participate in the program. The City of Daly City will sponsor a display in the heart of the mall.

The participants will include Walter Prehn, owner of the Daly City Floral Arts Nursery; Bill Huston, president of the Daly City Garden Club and Joe Cherolis, owner of Joe's Nursery.

The patio exhibit will be open free to all shoppers. Don Davis, manager of Penney's Westlake store, is in charge of arrangements.

Emergency City Hall Discussed

Pacifica city councilmen moved closer last week to being the first Bay Area city to establish an underground emergency city hall in the event of disaster when they scheduled a special study meeting for 7:30 p.m. Friday to discuss a lease for a giant underground bunker at the Army Nike base in the city.

The bunker, composed of several rooms on two levels, was used at Coast artillery headquarters during World War II. Also to be studied at the Friday night study meeting are a master plan for development of the southeastern section of the city and a report from the Greater Highways committee.

At a meeting last week, the council unanimously passed a resolution endorsing a second Bay crossing between Sierra Point north of South San Francisco and Roberts Landing in Alameda County.

In other actions, Councilmen: Continued at the applicant's request a proposal of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints that two acres north of the Linda Mar school be rezoned to permit construction of duplexes.

Passed a resolution approving a land trade with Daly City. Asked an investigation of a complaint of Henry I. Jones of 267 Waterford that debris is being dumped on the right of way of the old Ocean Shore railroad near his home.

Agreed to investigate if funds to improve navigable waters can be obtained to improve local beaches.

Held a personnel session to review applications for positions on the park, beach and recreation and planning commissions.

Proclaimed April 27 to May 3 "Mental Health Week" and May 3 to 9 "Blood Bank Week."

Authorized expenses for councilmen attending a League of California Cities convention in Santa Monica May 17 to 19.

Heard a report from City Attorney Conrad Reisch that the superior court has issued an abatement order against a hog ranch in Pedro Valley.

Scheduled a special meeting next Wednesday to review formation of an assessment district to improve Crespi Drive immediately west of Cabrillo Highway.

TALK ABOUT stories pregnant with irony. It's tough to tie the one where Daly City and San Francisco are fighting over the Cow Palace so as to be credited with the Republican National Convention.

We can remember a time when nobody, including Bayshore City, wanted to claim the pseudo-bovine structure, or, for that matter, could even locate it without U-2 photos.

Not until a midwestern promoter (now a "native" San Franciscan) named Frank "Bowtie" Walsh got lost one day not long after World War II and accidentally discovered the Palace, did anyone really recognize its full potential.

"I thought I was on my way to Moraga to see St. Mary's play a basketball game," says Walsh, who had just settled in San Francisco, "when I came across what I thought at the time was an abandoned dirigible hangar."

When Walsh found that it was a giant arena, he quickly put his vast connections with midwest and eastern basketball into action, and was soon bringing major collegiate basketball powers to the Palace on a regular basis.

Only pebble in the shoe was that the Palace, at the time, had no heating system, and Walsh began getting concerned over frostbite reports in the higher tiers.

He did everything to psyche spectators out of feeling cold, including showing up at the Palace in Hawaiian shirts. But even pleas to then Gov. Earl Warren failed, and so the big time collegiate basketball of that era eventually faded.

Not too long later, the Palace did get its heat, and now even the Beatles are willing to claim it, not to mention the Republicans.

But we don't know why San Francisco and Daly City should be so jealous over the old hulk, anyway. Seems like we San Franciscans and Daly Citians are as one.

We had to move from our native land (San Francisco) to Daly City just to see some of our old friends.

TERRA NOVA'S Faculty basketball team won the Pacifica Adult League title last week, winding up with an undefeated record in 10 times to the post.

Don Delbon, one-time Jeff basketball and baseball hero, averaged about 30 points a game (the team averaged approximately 60), but it was a team effort.

It had to be. With few exceptions, teammates invariably had to come off the bench to assist some of the older gentlemen to the sidelines after particularly furious fast breaks.

But aside from The Grand Old Men, we bring up this whole subject because of a ridiculous play-off ruling used in that particular league, and one fairly prevalent in amateur sports throughout the Bay Area.

The Terra Nova Faculty went undefeated in league play, but had they lost just ONE game in the playoffs, they would have been eliminated from further championship consideration.

We all know that any team can have an off night, so we don't, therefore, think it to be at all fair or even logical that league winners should have to take their chances with runners-up in a playoff series.

A regular season champ should accumulate one point; the playoff champs should receive a point. And then, if the regular season winner and the playoff winner are two different teams, they should have a final playoff to determine the all-around title.

Should both the playoff and regular season winner be one in the same team, then that team is champ, without a need for finals.

This system is not only fair to the regular season winner, but also to the team which, for instance, is really top-rated but which suddenly runs into a string of injuries or other tough luck during the season. The playoffs allow this team an opportunity to redeem itself.

The point-and-point system leaves little room for doubt or second guessing, and is eminently fair to all.

TIME NOT only flies—it forgets itself.

As a teen-ager, we lived across the street from Lloyd Dickey, an all-time San Francisco prep baseball player who, at the time we were neighbors, was pitching excellently for the San Francisco Seals (when they were a baseball team) and the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League.

Dickey, a lefty with a blazing fast ball, might have made it in the majors, but a tough break followed by a sore arm never got him higher than the Coast League.

The tough break was being sold by the Seals to Cleveland at the time the Indian staff sported Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Bob Feller, Mike Garcia, Hal Newhouser, Ray Narleski, Don Mossi, and a few others like that.

At the time, Lloyd had two children, a little girl, and a little boy whom we last remember in short pants and not yet in kindergarten, even.

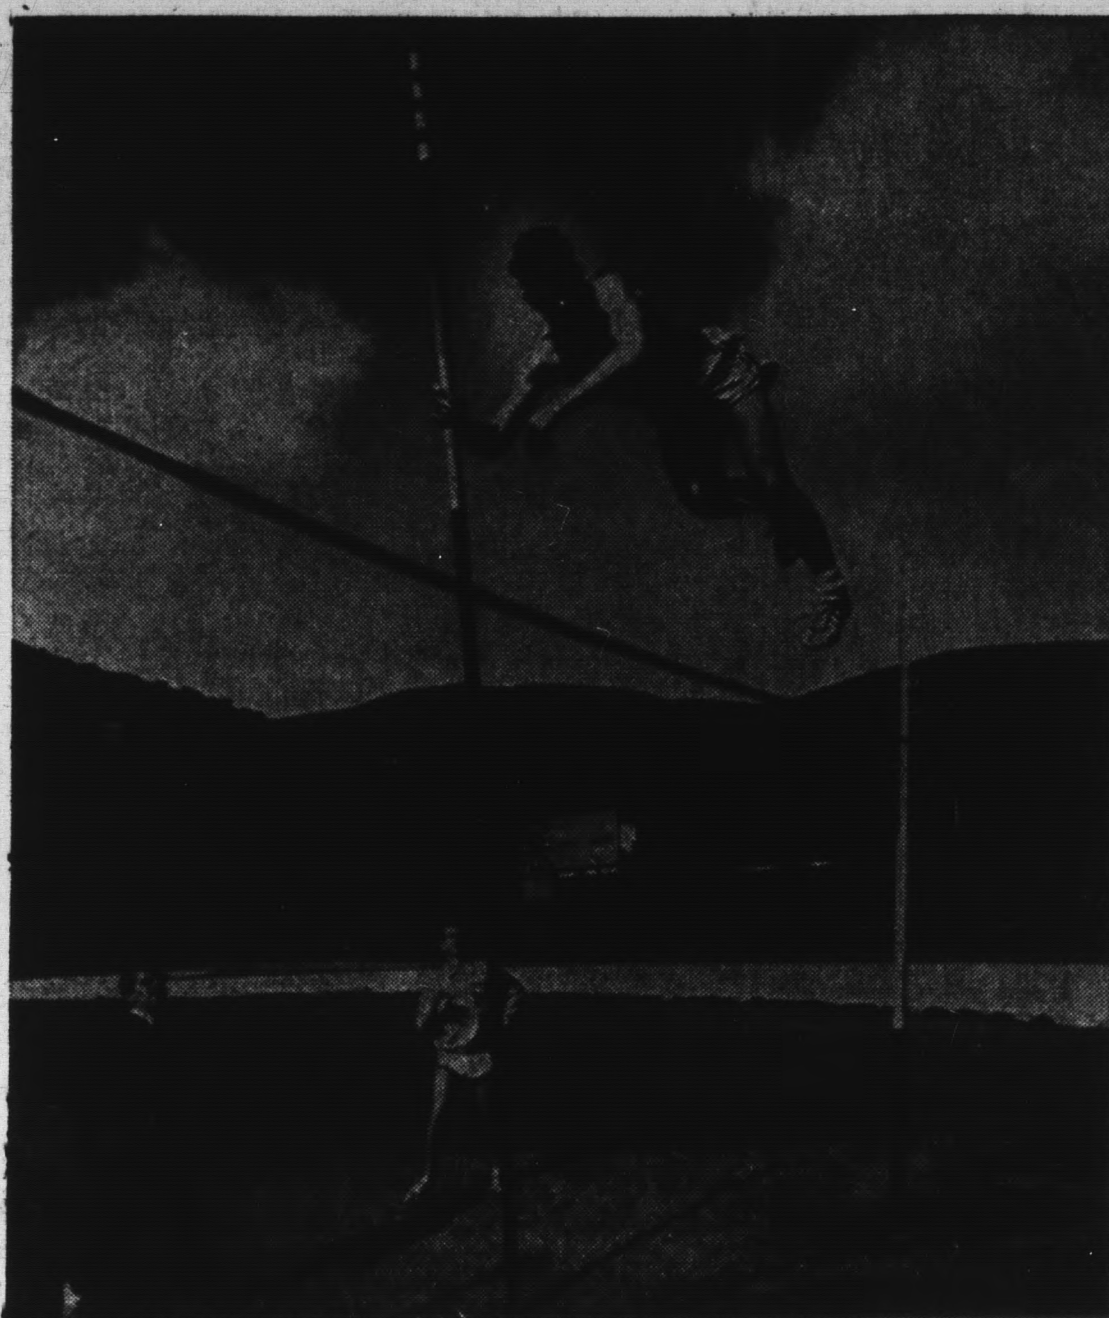

We saw Lloyd and his wife, Barbara, at Westmoor High the other night, attending an orientation meeting for parents of incoming high school freshmen.

We went home that night and snipped the grey hair at the top of my head off at the roots.

ODDS 'N ENDS: It's ironic that the Dodgers, who tried to play at not missing Frank Howard at the time they thought the big boy was out for the season, won what they did the first two weeks of the season primarily because of Howard's bat . . . Jimmy Davenport may have the edge over many second basemen—and make up whatever deficiencies he suffers—because of his powerful arm. They usually put dead-arms at second because of the short throw. But a guy who can really whip it from behind and around second has a big edge . . . Could Del Crandall be the next Giant manager? They didn't get him just to keep Tom Haller rested . . . No, the Dodgers are not the all-time also-rans. The White Sox are. They've finished second 16 times. No other team is even close.

Almost But Not Quite

BILL WHITMAN of Oceana misses an attempt to clear 11 feet six inches in the pole vault event during a track meet with Terra Nova. Both Whitman and the bar are on the way down. He cleared 11 feet, however, and won the event in the varsity competition. Terra Nova, however, went on to capture the meet, 81-41.

NFL TRACK

Rams Rout Warriors; Tigers Win

By CRAIG BECKHEYER
Times Sports Writer

Terra Nova's class B high jumper Terry Feight had never jumped over five feet before yesterday afternoon's track meet with Oceana. But with all events in and the Tigers needing three points to pull out a victory, Feight uncorked with his season's best in scaling 5-2 to nab second place, three points, and give Terra Nova a thrilling 57-56 class B win over the Sharks on their own field.

The narrow victory completed a clean sweep for Terra Nova over the visitors with the Tiger varsity winning, 81-41, and the Cs earning a 49-37 decision.

In other league action, Westmoor's powerhouse varsity moved a step closer to the NPL title in routing South San Francisco, 85-37, while second place Jefferson had little trouble in defeating El Camino, 78-44.

In class B meets Jefferson continued on a win skein that has stretched over three seasons in dumping El Camino by a lop-sided 103-10 margin and South San Francisco edged Westmoor, 58-54.

The Westmoor C's helped the Rams take two of three meets in topping the Warrior lightweights, 47 1-3 to 38 2-3, while Jefferson bumped El Camino, 65-21, in other class C action.

The Westmoor varsity title express was sparked by double wins from Roy Pinelli and John Pettit while discus thrower Tom Weber, in his first season at the event, won with a toss of 142-5 1/2.

Jefferson, a good team that will no doubt be forced to take a back seat to the loaded Rams, got another double hurdle win from Firdie White. White is undefeated in the highs this year and has lost only once in the lows.

NORTH COUNTY SPORT SCENE

Ram Golfers Keep Streak

Westmoor's Coach Tony Giammona's charges extended their win streak to 26 games and Oceana's Charlie Morelli fired a hole-in-one on the 16th green at Sharp Park to highlight the North Peninsula League Golf competition last week.

The Rams downed Terra Nova to keep their amazing record unblemished and Morelli fired his ace in Oceana's win over the Jefferson Indians.

The Rams put their undefeated record on the line tomorrow when it meets Oceana for the second round at Sharp Park. Oceana's only loss in events yesterday in helping the league play this season has been to the undefeated Rams.

Serra Bowl

I WOULD like to start off this week, as our winter leagues come to an end, by not only inviting all our winter league bowlers to join us in a summer league, but to thank you one and all for being with us during the winter season. We are looking forward to serving you in the future. Now let's see how the scores for the past week came out:

"Big Al" Coulter shot them down for a 220-590 in the mens and Jim Schon had 206-568 for the Amigos. The 813 scratch had Bob Campedonico slammin' away with 223-604, Rich Gedes, with 205-569 in the Gringos and Ed Murdick, 213-563 for the Majors. The Morning Glories' Bernice Bundesen had 179-475 and the Bombers' Mary Mondell had 134 and Lowell McDavid 131.

It was Al Coulter again with a terrific night for the Boozers when he came up with games of 214-212-213 for a series of 639—and this is a 166 average bowler. The Feather Dusters had Donna Morris with 183 and Millie Bacigalupi with 450, and the Bowling Bags had Esther Kleenen with 174 and Jean Howard with 478.

IN THE B&G LEAGUE, it was George Hauser with 234-553. Tom Galvin, a 138-average man, really was tearing them up in the Knights of Columbus group when he shot 257-231 and came up with a 646 series. Congratulations, Tom. Dottie Bandoni had 189 and "Sweet 99" Millie Welling rolled 538 for the Domestic Engineers.

Irene Manthey had 180 and Vivian Leech had 496 for the Budget Busters. Don Petrowsky rolled 205-543 in the Belles and Beaus and Bernie Barlund had 223 and a big 609 with the Sharpshooters. Jack Quinn in the Bankers came up with 212-587, Lee Micheletti had 212-583 for the Foresters and Tony Sanders rolled 213-552 in the Gigolos.

Here is that name again: Al Coulter had 211-577 in the Astronauts and the Holy Angels' Terry Revetria rolled 155 and Val Madriettes 427. The Park Merced group started their summer league with Otis Smith recording 210-237 for a 611 series. Looks like a good summer for Otis. In the Rovers, it was Nick Coppola with 202-563 warming up for the coming scratch league.

Well that rounds it out for this week. I'll sign off now with a "See ya next week" and don't forget our summer leagues are forming now. Come on in and see us.

Westlake Bowl

In the Southgate Mixed Fives League, GAIL HULTGREN with 198-512 and ED JOHNSON with 207-568 were the week's leaders.

LAURA LAUSMAN was a double winner in the YWCA League as she rolled a 193 game and 485 series as the Dipsy Doodles team won the case of Fischer's Egg Noodles.

MAY 9 AND 10 have been set as the dates for the Westlake Captains-Secretaries Tournament. At no cost other than three lines of bowling, captains of summer league teams and league secretaries are eligible to compete for $500 in cash prizes, plus an additional $1,200 in cash prizes offered to the winners from the various bowling centers in a grand rolloff.

PEG NURISSO and TERRY WARDE split the honors in the St. Emydius League as Peg rolled a 177 game and Terry posted a 449 series.

These are busy days around Westlake as organizational meetings are scheduled for the spring-summer leagues. There are still openings in the various daytime and evening leagues.

Colts Nine Tops Tigers; Indians Down Westmoor

Jefferson High School, rallying for two runs in the top of the seventh inning, came from behind to defeat Westmoor, 7-6, Friday afternoon on the Ram diamond and keep the Jeffs tied with South San Francisco for second place in the North Peninsula League baseball chase.

El Camino, still riding high after its 5-0 conquest of co-favorite South S. F. Wednesday, gave up a single run to Terra Nova in the top of the first inning, then pounded their way to a 5-1 victory over the Tigers to remain atop the loop with a 3-0 mark.

Oceana, tabbed in the pre-season as a good hitting club, was shut out for the third straight time when South San Francisco bombed the Sharks, 6-0, on the loser's field.

Oceana Coach Frank Lawler, at a loss to explain his team's woeful attack in league play could only say, "We just went into a big slump when the league season started."

He did note, however, that the Sharks were hitting the ball sharply Friday in spite of being shut out and getting but two safeties. "We hit the ball well, but right at people."

South S.F. on the other hand was really hitting them "where they ain't" as Larry Sylvestri and Jeff Jones both hit homers to give pitcher Bob Oliveira all the help he needed.

Steve Price, with a circuit clout, and Ernie Tressitte, who turned in a bases loaded single, sparked El Camino to its win.

The Colts shot to a 3-1 lead after three innings and then coasted home while getting single tallies in the fifth and sixth.

Tri-Cities League Set

The Daly City Recreation Department has announced it will again sponsor the Tri-City Baseball League program it inaugurated last summer.

This league is designed for freshmen and sophomore boys who had not reached their 16th birthday by Dec. 1, 1963, and have not played on a varsity baseball team.

League play will start Sunday, June 14, with an eight-team round-robin schedule planned each Sunday at the Colma and Marchbands Diamonds.

A managers' meeting will be held in the middle of May to complete final details for the league.

Representatives of interested teams are urged to contact Alan Boyd, supervisor of youth activities, at the Recreation Department, P 5-0850 for further information.

THIRD BIRTHDAY

They'll Celebrate At Skyline Plaza

Merchants in the Skyline Plaza Shopping Center will open a gala month-long birthday celebration today.

The birthday is the center's third and it will be observed with a "Hawaiian Holidays" theme.

Top feature of the celebration will be the award of a week-long, all-expense paid trip to Honolulu for two. The trip is being arranged in co-operation with United Airlines.

Drawings for this and other prizes in the celebration will be held at 8:15 and 9:15 p.m. Friday, May 22, at the plaza. Second prize is an all-expense paid weekend trip for two to Reno. Other prizes include two Big Boy home barbecue sets and a men's and women's wristwatches.

Free tickets for the drawings will be available starting today at Skyline Plaza. Ticket holders must be 21 years of age or older and must be present to win.

Contest rules state that no Skyline merchant, his relatives of employees may participate as winners in the drawings.

The same rules cover employees of Henry Doelger Enterprises. Only one award may be claimed by a family.

Mary Taylor, special events representative of United Air Lines, has been working with Ray Forcina, Skyline Plaza Merchants Association president, in preparing the Hawaiian theme of the celebration.

According to Miss Taylor, United will have a vacation package prepared for the winners of the trip to Honolulu.

Shoppers may obtain tickets for the free drawings from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Sunday and from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesdays and Fridays.

The tickets will be given out at booths decorated as Hawaiian huts and staffed by young ladies in Hawaiian attire.

Assembly Okays Judge Increase

San Mateo County soon will benefit from additional Superior Court judges.

Assembly Bill 26, presented by Assemblyman Leo Ryan, D-

South San Francisco, was passed in the legislature last week which calls for from seven to nine judges in this county.

BETTER BUSINESS

Home Repairs Dangers Cited

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business
Bureau "Barometer"

SPRING, and the need for minor repairs and often times complete remodeling jobs, arrive hand in hand to many home owners. The home, which probably is the largest single investment most families make, requires constant attention to maintain its appearance and to keep up its market value.

Home improvement, involving many industries, products and contractor's services, is the subject of the great inquiries and public complaints to Better Business Bureaus.

Although every year approximately three billion dollars are invested in "do-it-yourself" projects, not including equipment costs, most property owners have had little practical experience in remodeling.

Many property owners have had little or no experience in contracting to remodel. The fact that 10 billion dollars are spent annually in the United States with home improvement contractors, is proof that home maintenance and remodeling play a very significant role in the economy of the nation.

Whether the house needs minor or extensive renovation, costly mistakes can be avoided with a combination of careful planning and competent information.

MOST manufacturers and industry associations offer planning guides and ideas for those who plan to do the work themselves. The person who plans to contract the work, unless he has had previous experience with a builder, should select the man who is to do the remodeling with great care, as a remodeling job employs varied trades such as plumbers, carpenters, electricians and painters, and there can be no substitute for a financially responsible, reputable contractor.

Good sources of information concerning a prospective contractor are: (1) Contractor's State License Bureau; (2) Better Business Bureau; (3) Building Contractor's Association; (4) A bank may give helpful information to a client making a selection.

Competitive bids should be checked carefully. Often the lowest bid is not the cheapest, as the contractor may not be using the same quality materials as the man giving a higher bid.

Contracts should be read and understood before signing!!! The contract contains just what the contractor intends to give and how much the work will cost.

An offer of a commission or a bonus to be paid for the use of the home as a model, or offers of a cash rebate from the loan proceeds, may be a form of high pressure selling and should be avoided. Contract for property improvement job only!

SOURCES of remodeling mon-

ny are savings banks, savings and loan associations, and mortgage departments of commercial banks. Existing real estate loans can be refinanced for additional funds needed. Some remodeling firms take care of financing, working out agreeable monthly payments to protect the lender. A maximum FHA loan is $3,500 and the maximum time of repayment is five years, interest at five percent, discount on the first $2,500, four percent on the balance.

Remodeling loans are available under Title 1 of the Federal Housing Act of 1934. FHA insures loans up to 90 percent to protect the lender. A maximum FH loan is $3,500 and the maximum time of repayment is five years, interest at five percent, discount on the first $2,500, four percent on the balance.

A home owner can be required to pay for a remodeling job twice! The Mechanics Lien Law provides that any person or firm which has furnished labor or material on a construction job, if not paid, may file a lien against the property. It may be imposed even though the home owner has paid the contractor if the contractor has not paid for the materials or labor.

Smaller contracts usually call for full payment upon completion of the job, while larger jobs may require payment in one sum upon job completion or in installments during the construction time. The last installment may be required upon final completion. Full payment should never be made prior to satisfactory completion of the contract.

A person wishing additional protection against the possibility of a mechanic's lien can:

1. Demand waivers of lien, property executed by all the suppliers of labor, including the sub-contractors.
2. Ask for receipted bills covering every item of material and labor before making payments.

Pair Hurt in Skyline Crash

A South San Francisco man and a visitor from Canada were hurt Wednesday when their car went off Skyline Boulevard west of San Mateo and crashed 100 feet down an embankment, throwing both occupants out.

Highway Patrolman Jack Rakestraw said the car, driven by David A. Hearty, 23, of 220 Del Monte Avenue, South San Francisco, an equipment operator at Hunter's Point, was southbound at 1:20 p.m. when it went off the road on a curve just north of Bunker Hill Drive. Hearty and his passenger, Kenneth Jensen, 14, were taken to Mills Memorial Hospital.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

ENTHUSIASTS who love to browse among fine fabrics, objets d'art and the miscellany that goes into creating the interior design center of the West must manage, by some means, to enjoy today's "View of Union Street" being sponsored by the Children's Home Society of California.

Last year, despite bitter cold and driving rain more than 2,000 people journeyed to San Francisco from as far north as Chico and from as deep in the Central Valley as Fresno to take advantage of this annual peek into the shops and studios along Union Street. This year the tour promises to be even more fascinating than in the past.

Mrs. Trevor Geddes and Mrs. Herbert Meyer, the ladies who have been in charge of all the arrangements, have succeeded in securing permission to fly the gay red and white balloons, indicating tour stops in front of some of the street's most intriguing entryways.

Guests will venture into a cellar to taste wines, down alleys to ferret out bargains in a hidden flea market, they will see the fine art of Japanese cooking demonstrated by the renowned chefs of the Mingeya restaurant, they will view things both traditional and avant guard in the various decor workshops and even purchase fresh flowers in a floral boutique. Those who become hungry or simply foot sore may pause for refreshments at one of the patio shops which will be serving between 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

According to Westlake's Mrs. Laurence M. McDonnell, one of the volunteer workers who have devoted so much time and effort to making this event tickets during the advance sale may still enjoy the intimate "view" of historic Union Street today by purchasing a ticket book with door prize coupons at 3063 Fillmore Street before 10 a.m. or at the Metro Theater, Union at Webster Streets, any time prior to 3 p.m.

BONANZA DAYS is the theme of our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish Festival to be presented in the school hall on May 15, 16, and 17 under the chairmanship of O. Waletr Mignault and co-chairman George Calegari.

According to Mrs. Dorothy Bergin, publicity director for Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, the final touches are being put on the booths which will feature a kaleidoscope of things to interest teenagers, booths that will be filled with toys and games for the youngest festival goers as well as booths which will display surprise packages, groceries, and other sundries to interest the adults.

Mrs. William Gonzales and a crew of helpers will serve refreshments at a snack bar throughout the festival for those desiring a tasty repast.

PLANS continue to be formulated for the first reunion of the Balboa High School class of 1955, according to Marilyn Briones and members of the reunion committee.

Rosalie Saltenberger is general chairman of the event which will be held in the Elks Club on Hillside Boulevard in South San Francisco on June 6. The evening will feature a dinner party followed by dancing to the music of a local combo.

According to Mrs. Briones, 50 of the 268 members of the class have already made reservations to attend. Persons desiring more information may call Mrs. Beverly Vargas PL 6-6746.

THE FIFTY PLUS Club of Pacifica will host an Hawaiian Party tomorrow night in the Sharp Park School beginning at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president.

The evening promises to be a gala one with all the guests asked to wear Hawaiian attire, muu-muus for the ladies and flowered shirts for the men. Club members, under the tutelage of Barbara Browman, the new recreation supervisor, have assembled colorful artificial leis for the guests to be given upon arrival.

Mrs. Lena Pranza is chairman of the evening and she has assembled a delightful program which will feature the singing and dancing of Terry Robinson, dancing by the mother and daughter team of Beverly Heseltan and Dolores Person and community singing under the leadership of Rung Hasselgren. Buffles and Ruffles are also reported planning to attend and add their special brand of zany humor to the festivities.

Mrs. Calhan has announced that no reservations are necessary and the evening is being presented without charge to guests. Members of the club are being urged to bring as many guests as they like and there are no age restrictions.

While plans for the Hawaiian party are proceeding over the slow response to the Yosemite trip the club is sponsoring on June 12. To date only one half of the money necessary to pay the $200 deposit has been collected and the deadline is May 1.

The club members have extended an invitation to anyone in the community to make reservations for the three-day trip. Tickets, costing $43 will entitle guests to transportation to and from the valley, twin beds in a steam heated cabin, and eight-hour side trip to the Big Trees with luncheon at Glacier Point plus all other meals during the three days. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Calhan, FL 5-2816, at once.

HARDLY had finish been written on the record of the 1964 Westlake Catholic Women's Rummage Sale, when activities connected with the presentation of Our Lady of Mercy Festival reached a fever pitch. Many of the activities did, in fact, overlap.

The final thank you was said to rummage sale workers only recently when they gathered in the home of Mrs. Vern Box, sale chairman, for an afternoon. Special guests included Mrs. Frank Burns, WCW president and past presidents Mrs. Frank Kelechava and Mrs. Albert Buccell.

Almost simultaneously festival committee workers were putting together the booths which fill the Parish Hall tomorrow when "Roman Holiday" begins its four-day run. According to Mrs. Jack R. Rose a "must" for festival goers will be the teen-age booth where the parish's high school set will be displaying all the paraphernalia necessary to be the best outfitted water skier on the beach.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

THE IDEAL way to give a luncheon or dinner is to plan and prepare ahead so that you are able to sit and enjoy your guests rather than dash around the kitchen in a flurry of activity. That's the ideal way—but unfortunately most of us don't quite make it, and end up in the kitchen in that hurry-flurry.

My friend Mrs. Dolores Healy, 1570 Thirty-third Avenue, San Francisco, is one of those smart people who plans ahead, prepares ahead and really enjoys her luncheons. The two recipes she is sharing with us today make for a delicious and easy luncheon.

Mrs. Healy tells me that she browned the chicken breasts the night before, then boned and prepared the rest of the dish in the morning. She also cooked and mixed the rice filling the night before.

This recipe and the molded salad recipe came from Mrs. Cecil Ryan, 115 Lakeshore Drive, San Francisco.

HAM, RICE AND CHICKEN BREAST CASSEROLE

- 6 Chicken Breasts Boned
- 1 lb. butter or oleo
- 6 slices cooked ham
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon marjoram
- 1/2 teaspoon tarragon
- 2 cups cooked rice
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1/2 pound mushrooms, chopped
- 1 cup almonds, chopped
- 2 tablespoons, diced pimiento
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Dry chicken and season with salt, pepper, marjoram and tarragon.

Saute almonds in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; remove almonds, add more butter and saute onion and mushrooms. Combine rice, almonds, onion, mushrooms, pimiento and seasonings.

Saute chicken in the same skillet. Rinse skillet with a little white wine or cream and pour this over the chicken, ham and rice when you have them arranged in a large baking dish.

Place a slice of ham in a buttered dish, next place a mound of rice and last, the sauted chicken breast. Wrap the ham around the rest and hold with a toothpick. When you have all six completed, pour the wine or cream over. Cover the whole pan with foil and bake for about 45 minutes.

SHE SERVED these with a cheese sauce over them. You simply make a white sauce and then grate cheddar cheese in it and keep it hot in the top of a double boiler.

This molded salad combines gelatin, apples, celery and nuts and is very pretty as well as good tasting.

MOLDED WALDORF SALAD

- 1 pkg. lemon gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water—cooled slightly
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1 cup celery, chopped
- 1 cup unpeeled apple, chopped
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts

Prepare the gelatin with the slightly cooled cup of water. When cool, stir in the salt, lemon juice and evaporated milk. Allow to thicken and then add the celery, apples and nuts. Pour into individual molds and place in refrigerator.

DON'T reserve this casserole for luncheon. It is fancy and filling and would make a delicious dinner entree.

Transit Plan Badly Needed

FAILURE to arrive at a solution to San Mateo County's pressing transit problem today poses a serious threat to the development of this rapidly-growing metropolitan county.

That threat, very real to everyone in San Mateo County, is that industry, commerce and life in the county may eventually be throttled by the glut of our own automotive traffic.

The problem, like the threat, is manifold and formidable. To continue to ignore it, or to try only half-heartedly to deal with it, would be a folly of improvidence that the people of the county cannot afford.

Moreover, it is a problem that reaches beyond the county itself, is bound inextricably to the economy of the entire Bay Area, and is bound particularly to our neighboring San Francisco and Santa Clara counties.

Without going into detail, a few of the questions presented are:

Is the answer "rapid transit" of the kind being built by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District—or is this only part of the answer? Would such a system be any better than the existing rail facilities now totally ignored by thousands who must move from city to city daily?

Is there any chance of improvement in schedules, terminals and interconnection of the existing rail facilities? Will either "rapid transit" or the rail system be used while still lacking local lateral and feeder connections?

Or, grimly, has the whole concept and method of fixed transit by rail or monorail been made obsolete and outmoded by the automobile? Are we to be condemned to an evergrowing Frankenstein monster of more and more expressways, freeways, tollways and interchanges?

IF FIXED "rapid transit" is an answer, as many believe that it is, how much will it cost and who is to pay for it? Can the industrial growth of the county continue if transit facilities bring a tax burden past the point of reasonable returns?

Should any "rapid transit" system here be compatible with, and linked to BARTD? Where would such transit be located and who would use it?

Can any kind of transit, or any solutions to the transit problems, be arrived at consistent with a bearable tax level for commerce, for industry, and for the people?

These questions only skim the surface. There are many, many more and the detail is endless.

Yet they must all be answered and the need for answers becomes increasingly urgent with each passing day. The fate and the future of San Mateo County is bound up in these answers.

FOR THIS reason, The Post believes that the responsible people of San Mateo County will insist that their leadership provide them with adequate surveys and studies charting what must be done and how to do it.

If we are to have a fixed "rapid transit" system we must get started on it now, and if we must take some alternative course we shall have to embark upon it before it is too late.

From this point forward, every delay will mark the tightening of a noose that may someday choke us into helpless immobility.

The Marquee

Some Low Key Humor

Barbara Bladen

"THE ESTABLISHMENT" wherein institutions are categorically enshrined and subsequently dethroned has set up housekeeping at the Little Fox Theatre on Pacific Avenue in San Francisco. There is dust in the parlor and frayed spots on the furnishings that make up this "entertainment that Peter Cook built" but the show will take top honors where competitive amusements are concerned.

The drolleries of the group are launched in piercing style, without fanfare or pretense. The stage is economically draped in black with two white movie screens at the back. Behind these sit a musical trio which provides background, interlude and accompaniment throughout the show.

A British fivesome of selective talent, makes targets for satirical joshing of Prince Phillip and the Queen, Pres. Johnson and his Lady Bird, homosexuality, the Profumo case, Hilton Hotels and advertising.

THE INITIAL premise of many of the gags is often de-emphasized by too abrupt an ending which stifles laughs before they get out of one's throat. They catch the spectator short and unprepared for the punch line by snapping what is already understated to too quick a finel.

But the effect is generally good-natured, witty and characteristically clipped. We are especially fond of the humorous songs sung by Patricia Scott who wears her blonde hair long and straight like Liz Scott and sings with a throaty, blues beat like Hazel Scott.

Paul McDowell, equally deft and appealing as a comedian or singer, accompanies himself on the guitar with gangling un-concern and deliberate aplomb.

THE LONDON born show, capricious offspring of Peter Cook (writer, actor, and director) staked a claim in San Francisco last year at the hungry I. The current revue changed its face in the person of cast but padded itself with some of its earlier tried material.

No cause for complaint there because it offers such a variety of ruthless repartee that it resembles a ping pong game played with loaded ammunition.

Hitler's armies march across the movie screen in altered cadence to the music of "Lambeth Walk" and we are regaled at the comic dance exhibition they perform. Peter Bellwood extolls the current news with pomposity and deadly sarcasm.

The humor is low key British but high level laughs and will shape and reshape itself into a fluid, enticing show as time and audience allows.

LYNETTE FISHEL was Miss Daly City during the Golden Anniversary Celebration in 1961. She won the coveted beauty title over a field of 22 other contestants. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Fishel, she is presently a sophomore at City College of San Francisco. From there she intends to go on to either San Francisco State or San Jose State to major in English with emphasis on

North County Notebook

Anatomy of An Election

Ron Bates

THE RECENT municipal elections in Daly City kept a lot of local political pundits, including myself, guessing as to who our next councilmen would be right up to the minute the last precinct results were reported.

Frank Pacelli's victory was clear cut and never too much in doubt once the results started coming in. But the battle for the second seat was one of those cliffhangers that keeps you in suspense right up to the climax.

The campaigning in Daly City was relatively quiet before the election and it was evident that the polling time was getting close by the stickers and signs that began to pop up in more and more windows.

It was Tom Noonan's second try for a council seat and to many it appeared that this time he might turn the trick.

In the campaign two years ago, he pulled 3,262 votes to wind up fourth behind Michael DeBernard's 3,598. Councilman Ed Dennis that year topped the ticket with 3,819, followed by Bob St. Clair with 3,667.

NOONAN'S campaign manager, Al Semnevo, did a good job and it seems that almost everybody got at least one call from a Noonan volunteer or worker.

That, coupled with the fact, that Noonan's fluorescent red campaign strip was predominant throughout the city, gave indication that he was strong.

Noonan's numerous activities, his position as chairman of the elementary school board and his strong showing in the previous election undoubtedly worked to his advantage.

Polonsky, on the other hand, was relatively unknown. He moved up to the council from the Personnel Board in January and had only three months too, had signs, larger than Noonan's, but seeming fewer the automatic incumbent vote.

Almost all of the candidates methods of wooing the vote—including coffee clatches, tea candidates nights, mailers and what have you.

Every little bit helped to set can only be guessed at.

Every little bit helped to set the stage for a dramatic finish.

TWO MAJOR things, I feel, happened in the two months preceding the election that interjected that mysterious elixer into the vote that makes politics the unpredictable thing that it is.

Their effect on the results can only be guessed at.

First was the entry of Tony Giammona into the race. A popular coach who has helped to graduate 13 years of classes from both Jefferson and Westmoor, he was a definite factor in the election.

He got 2,901 votes, with a person-to-person campaign and relatively few signs. He's definitely a man to watch in future politics.

One must wonder how many votes he drew away from the incumbents or from Noonan.

Second thing was the elimination of Bud Lycett as a candidate by his appointment to Bob St. Clair's seat. Lycett is a popular figure with businessmen in the older part of the city.

He also is a member of Our Lady of Mercy parish and his name on the ticket could have pulled votes away from Polonsky.

IT ALL BOILS down to who can get out the vote. With the Giants opening the baseball season and the sun beaming, it appeared like it would be a light vote and this has a way of favoring the incumbents. Housewives, taking advantage of the sun, don't feel like getting dressed up to vote.

The balloting was 8,672 out of a possible 20,770 or a 41 per cent turnout. The vote two years ago was almost identical—3,579 out of 20,527 registered.

It is interesting to look at the way the vote went in the 52 precincts.

The incumbents were strong in the areas around the Westlake Shopping Center (the OLM parish), and in Bayshore. Polonsky led the voting in the Olympic section where he lives.

Noonan's voting strength came from St. Francis Heights and the areas surrounding the War Memorial Community Center and the Woodrow Wilson School. Noonan lives in St. Francis Heights.

Giammona's pulling power was also centered in St. Francis Heights. He led the voting at M. Pauline Brown, Daniel Webster, 248 St. Catherine Drive and 75 Midvale Drive with votes of 179, 142, 105 and 136, respectively. Not bad for a beginner.

THE POLLS closed at 8 p.m. and as the votes came into City Hall, Pacelli's lead grew and grew. Polonsky, on the other hand, trailed Noonan, whose lead at the halfway point grew to around 300.

As the final precincts came in, Noonan's lead grew smaller and smaller. With only one precinct—1064 Skyline Drive—remaining, Polonsky led by 40 votes.

Of the 250 persons registered in the final precinct, only 70 voted. Polonsky pulled 30 to Noonan's 23, giving him a 47 vote margin of victory.

That, by the way, amounts to less than one vote per precinct.

A SIDENOTE — Polonsky's son, Richard, being exposed to the political bug, got bit by it, and used Dad's posters and techniques in the presidential primaries at Ben Franklin Junior High. He managed to wind up third out of a field of 22, thereby winning a spot in the finals.

The Inevitable Americans, by John Greenway (Knopf $5.95): An anthropologist's fresh look at America and the Americans raises many questions and supplies a few of the answers. Why do we give women seats in buses, carry packages for them? "Women in aboriginal America regularly carried weights of 150 pounds." There is a reason for everything that we do, from fighting wars to wearing neckties, both unreasonable acts on the face of it. The reason is called culture, and since Greenway is a cultural determinist, his view is that whatever the faults of the American culture, Americans, like all other peoples, "were driven by their cultural genes to become what they are and what they will be." The United States, as he sees it, is the repository of a vast heritage of culture, from the acquisitiveness of the Mediterranean basin to the courtly love of provence in medieval times (Hence the package-carrying for women and the primacy of the dollar.) America may not be the best country in the world, Greenway concludes, but it is the best country in the world for Americans.

Cold Comfort Farm, by Stella Gibbons (Dial $4.50): When an author admits at the outset that she means her book to be funny, she rather invites a double whammy on her product. Yet, Stella Gibbons so proclaimed her aim and achieved it in "Cold Comfort Farm," which has lasted through 31 editions in 32 years in the British bookshelves and now is offered in a new American edition. Miss Gibbons conceived "Cold Comfort" while fed up with reviewing for a London newspaper the stuffy, stilted novels of an earlier age.

Man's Friend Also His Horse

Don Miller

IT'S SAID that a man's best friend is his dog. Undoubtedly true for many dog lovers. But to the owner of a horse, there can be no doubt that his best friend is his trusty steed.

That was never more apparent than last week—during and after a roaring inferno that snuffed out the lives of 34 horses in a Colma stable.

To some people, the death of an animal should never be considered the cause for any wailing and moaning. After all, their thinking goes, an animal can't talk with you. It can't help itself to a snack in the kitchen and so on, ad infinitum.

That's all very true but, as any dog or horse fancier will tell you, those considerations don't count.

It's that hard-to-describe feeling of companionship a pet gives his owner that scores highly and outweighs any other factor.

JUST HOW much some owners value their dogs and horses was vividly demonstrated at the Colma fire.

At the height of the flames, several owners arrived with halters and ropes and only the intense heat of the fire kept them from dashing inside to rescue their animals.

They were forced to stand aside and grievously watch what had undoubtedly become a part of each one of them be consumed in flames. Several women broke down and cried—unashamedly.

The next morning the scene was repeated as more owners arrived to survey the scene. They stood around in clusters, talking in low tones, shaking their heads in disbelief.

One owner gazed down the line of charred stalls and at the bodies of horses on the floor and commented only: "I've lost everything now. There's nothing more I can do but to go home."

Nearby, grazing contentedly as if nothing had ever happened were several horses that had been freed from the stable by the frantic efforts of first, a Broadmoor policeman and later, neighbors who had dashed to the scene.

THE SCOPE of the tragedy might have been reduced if it had not been for three factors: the wind, the distance of the stable from a fire hydrant and a pipe that fed water to horses' stalls.

The wind, which blew at gale force strength the night of the fire, whipped the flames through the wooden structure like a giant fan turned toward a grass fire.

Short Life of An Alarm Clock

George Whitesell

THERE IS an old folk song called "My Grandfather's Clock" that tells a sad story of how a faithful clock stopped when the old gentleman died, and would never tick again.

In the experience of this department, clocks are not so accommodating. We have had quite a few of them stop on us without having the decency to wait until we kick the bucket.

From snooping around we learn that this is common experience on the Peninsula. Any household over five years established is likely to possess a clock, or several of them, that resolutely refuse to turn a wheel.

And, somehow, it seems immoral to throw a clock away so we keep the corpse, looking forward to some day of resurrection.

This is true of even the cheapest alarm clocks which often have a very short span of life owing to the hazards of their occupation.

Alarm clocks, in fact, are apt to lead a hard and short life.

They are wound by sleepy people and often their innards are wound so tightly that they can never move again. Also, turning the setting screw of the alarm mechanism of a cheap alarm clock the wrong way can completely discombobulate its eternal economy and confuse it to a worry where it gives up altogether.

But the real peril to an alarm clock comes in the morning when it does its duty and is rewarded by being smothered, flung across the room, beaten to death, or has its brains bashed out against the bedpost. Sooner or later its owner resents being awakened to the point of physical violence.

MANY "GRANDFATHER" clocks, some of them ancient relics and others comparatively new, suffer from paralysis of the pendulum.

Preserved because of family pride, or because they are ornamental, they stand mutely in a corner and no one ever looks at them for the time of day.

They are first-class "dust-catchers" and clock-makers say that this is often what is wrong with them. They get choked up on the dust and lint of the passing years and would be ticking solemnly away if cleaned and oiled.

Occasionally a large clock of this kind is deliberately left silent and unwound because it strikes with a "b-o-i-l-i-n-g" that wakes the baby, scares the cat off the refrigerator, and shocks visitors out of their wits.

The location of the stable, situated on a hillside, is some 1,500 feet from the nearest hydrant and firemen were forced to lay hose over this distance to bring water to the site.

The pipe ran around the outside of the building like a huge belt. It blocked the exit of horses from the rear of their stalls and rescuers were forced in some cases to chop through the pipe to open an escape route.

It was ironic, when you think of it, that a device carrying the substance used to put out fires should turn out to be something that probably prevented some of the horses from fleeing the flames.

IN THE WAKE of the municipal balloting this month, there shouldn't be any doubt any longer that North County folk sure do like their elections on the interesting side.

At the top of the interest scale we'd have to put the Colma Town election—principally because the new lineup there probably boasts the only father-son team in all of Northern California.

From now on when Blanche Lagomarsino calls the roll to open Colma Town Board meetings, she'll be calling out "Otto-boni!" twice—Raymond Senior and Raymond Junior.

Junior became the second Ottoni on the board when he polled 82 votes, second highest in the election, to take a council seat at the relatively tender age of 22.

Ousted was none other than hizzoner, Mayor Fred Garbin, who ran a distant fifth in the race for three seats.

NATURALLY, this sort of family affair on the council could lead to all kinds of conversation at board meetings and the following is offered as an idea of what could happen at an otherwise uneventful meeting some evening in the future:

Ottoni Senior: I move that we call a public hearing for July 15 on the sewer district.

Ottoni Junior: But Dad, you promised you and mom would come over to play cards with us that night.

Ottoni Senior: Goldarnit, that's right. Well, then, I move we call the hearing for July 16. Now is that all right, son?

As we said, it could happen. But only if the other gentlemen who administer Colma's municipal business don't mind listening to another kind of business—family business.

SOME SMALLER striking clocks are also very noisy and fall into disfavor.

This may be the striking mechanism, or a particularly loud "tick-tock," and often seems to be a sort of internal disorder resulting in snaps, cracks, whirring and a generous ominous rumbling of the insides.

Even some table and tiny clocks have a habit of indulging in asthmatic spasms that invariably come when the room is quiet. This can be very disconcerting if you are trying to figure out what became of the last pay check or reading a ghost story.

Our more immediate Victorian ancestors had a particularly hideous taste in mantel clocks and perpetrated some of the most awful clock cases in the history of horology.

They used onyx, marble, bronze, and combinations and imitations of these materials to create cases that looked like miniature tombs adorned with columns, statuary and iron shrubbery.

These were bad at their best and the cheap copies of them were so horrible that they drove people to even worse things like those clocks surgically inserted into the tummy of the Venus de Milo.

Many of these, and many other old clocks, have been carefully preserved as "antiques" when they are, in fact, so much well-aged junk. Any clock-maker or antique dealer can set you straight on whether you have a really valuable old clock. The percentages are against it.

In general, the finer any old clock is the more complicated and sensitive its mechanism will be.

NEARLY ALL clocks, spring-driven weight-driven, or electric require regular cleaning and oiling by an expert. If they don't get it, they are bound to stop running.

And oddly enough, people who lavish attention on a fine watch expect a clock to do without it.

The net result is a lot of dead and useless timepieces that clutter up the house but could be restored to happy life.

There is one sure way to kill a clock forever. Just tinker with it yourself or give the kids a screwdriver and tell them to fix it. They will.

You Couldn't Tell the Teachers Without a Program

Smash Hit at Colma School

An old-fashioned melodrama, written, produced and directed by faculty members at Colma Intermediate School at the request of students, turned out to be such a smash hit that the production was repeated yesterday for parents.

The melodrama is entitled: "The Curse of an Aching Heart." It is directed by Mary Barnett. Joan Keropian, seventh grade math and science teacher, plays the shy heroine who is cursed with an aching heart, and James Shaul, eighth grade math and science teacher, is the stalwart hero, Lucius Good-enough.

The black-hearted villain (every melodrama has one) is played by James Thompson, in a change of role from his real life job as principal of the school. The sultry accomplice of the villain is played by Patricia Mason, sixth grade teacher. Battle Axe Annie, the formidable female sheriff, is played by Miss Barnett, girls' physical education teacher, and William Briner, art instructor, fills the role of Mayor Phineas Phogbottom.

Grandpa and Grandma are portrayed by Edward Edwards and Myrtle Cully. Terry Burns, girls' counselor, plays Auralia, their simple-minded daughter. Pierre Layton, eighth grade math and science teacher, is cast as Aloysius Abernathy, the long lost son who struck it rich, and Douglas Curless, special classes teacher, plays Big Chief, complete with blanket and feather.

The play was first presented before students who then asked that a special showing be presented for their parents. (Post-Times Photo)

High Math Prize Won By Student

Placing highest among Peninsula entries in physical science at the 1964 Bay Area Science Fair was Arlyne Graney of El Camino High School, taking second place in the senior division.

Arlyne's project was the algebraic-trigonometric proof of the Heron's Formula which deals with determining the area of a triangle in terms of the sides.

Along with the proof, she showed the verification of the formula for equilateral, isosceles and right triangles. The usage of the Heron's Formula was illustrated through the solving of three sample problems.

Placing first in the senior class academically, Arlyne has taken science and mathematics courses for four years.

To further her studies in science she attended the National State University last summer where she researched in the field of organic chemistry.

Her future plans focus on teaching. Arlyne plans to attend either the University of California at Davis or the University of the Pacific where she hopes to obtain a Ph.D. in chemistry and teach the field on the college or university level.

Members of the Future Business Leaders of America Chapter at Terra Nova High School won seven awards at the FBLA's state convention in Yosemite National Park.

The awards included: first place, attendance; second place, shorthand, Linda Borba; second place, chapter project, Dorothy Little; third place, essay, Diana Morrison; third place, activity report, Monica Kinsella and third place, publicity book, Janet Hanshaw and Kathi Goss.

The club also received the Gold Star Award, given to chapters that have an outstanding activity schedule.

Only 10 chapters in the state received this award. Further honors were gained by the Terra Nova chapter when Deanna O'Connor, Sharon Bowen and Barbara Thielen were elected to the Northern California FBLA executive board.

Deanna will be in charge of publications for the board in 1964-65 and Sharon will be treasurer. Barbara will act as the corresponding secretary of the state group's northern section.

Roland Boldt and Gary Thompson, club sponsors, accompanied the chapter members to Yosemite.

The state convention next year will be held in Disneyland.

Karen Carrillo will act as commentator. The student committees are headed by Nancy Foreman, decorations; Jean Wu, clean up; Stephanie Chaparral, program; Sherry Baffico, invitations and Judy Gelfand and Paula Masterpole, publicity.

Bank Honors S.S.F. Student

Mark Cooper, South San Francisco High School junior, was named the Bay Area's student scientist of the week by Wells Fargo Bank.

He appeared on the bank's "Science in Action" television, according to John Mack, manager of Wells Fargo's Brentwood office.

Mark demonstrated the effect of a tranquilizing drug on the heartbeat of a frog. He plans to major in medicine at Northwestern University after high school and has already won top recognition in the field of biochemistry at the recent Science Fair.

Among his school activities, he is president of the Astronomy Club and a member of the California Scholarship Federation, German Club and Political Action Club. He is a letter winner in swimming and participated on the water polo team as well.

Outside of school, he is a Boys Club instructor and a member of the AAU junior swim team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper, 713 Haven Avenue.

Career Guidance Fair Scheduled

San Mateo County Fairgrounds will be the scene of a "Career Guidance Fair" to be attended by all Westmoor sophomores on Friday, May 8. The students will leave here at 9:30 a.m. and return shortly before school is out.

Sponsored by the Industry-Education Council of San Mateo in conjunction with the County Schools Office, the fair is being presented to acquaint students, counselors, parents, and teachers with the latest educational requirements of various occupations.

Civil Rights Talk Is Slated

"Civil Rights or Civil Wrongs" is the title of a sermon to be given Friday night by Rabbi Herbert Morris at Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way.

The sermon will deal with the current sit-in demonstrations in San Francisco and throughout the country. The Rabbi will also direct his remarks to the National Interreligious Convocation in Washington, D.C., the largest gathering of ministers, priests and rabbis ever held in the United States.

Earl Rabb, director of the Community Relations Council, will detail the meaning of the "Together."

The Social Action Committee of Temple Judea, under the directions of Mrs. Frank Langfelder and Dr. Sylvan Eisenberg, is sponsoring a letter and telegram write-in to both California senators urging them to support the Civil Rights Bill. The Men's Club of Temple Judea is sponsoring a dinner tonight with Father Long of the Holy Angels Church in Colma as the featured speaker. His topic will be "The Catholic and the Jew—Can They Ever Get Together."

S.S.F. School Study Slated

Do parents like the idea of year-round schools?

No one seems to know, so South San Francisco Unified school district will help in a survey to find out.

The study is being sponsored by the state association of elementary school administrators, and is to back up information previously gathered from educators.

South San Francisco trustees also set two special meetings, to discuss district business affairs.

The first, May 9 at 4 p.m., will be a session with Dr. Schuyler Joiner, business manager of the Los Angeles schools, who has been conducting a local survey. The Saturday session will be solely to hear his report.

The following Monday at 8 p.m., the board will meet to more thoroughly discuss these business affairs.

Planning Session

MAKING PLANS for the Holy Angels Women's Guild Food Sale May 3 are seated chairman Mrs. Donald Holsten, standing, left to right, Mrs. Thomas Lehan, Mrs. Phillip

Bell, Mrs. Leslie Moran and Mrs. William Dowd. The sale, entitled "Spring Food Fantasy," will be held at the church from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. (Post-Times Photo)

Planners Halt Freeway Vote

An apparent squeeze play between Westborough subdivision and the state division of highways has been stalled by South San Francisco's planners.

Westborough attorney Jess Jackson explained to the planning commission that the developers would like to get approval of their tentative map for Unit Four, even though the state plans a freeway there.

Although the state has reportedly not filed condemnation proceedings against the development, it is understood that such an action is pending, in order to develop Junipero Serra Freeway.

With bulging sheaves of reports from their own consultants, and from Ron Cochran of Wilsey, Ham & Blair, the planning commission decided to hold the matter for further study.

Another Westborough action was set for Monday's hearings, the request for a planned community zoning for Neighborhood 18.

Held for more information and better plans were C. J. Potter's request for permission to erect 40 to 48 multiple-dwelling buildings at Camartas and Arroyo, in a single-family residential district.

The planners granted variances allowing Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDonald to add 1½ feet to their home at 201 Pinehurst, permitting John F. Donnellan to use a front yard area for parking, and allowing Shaw-Walker to encroach into a rear-

Vets' Exemption Deadline Monday

Claims for veterans' exemptions on property and personal property taxes must be filed before 5 p.m. Monday, according to Daly City Clerk Anna Ohlendorf.

Mrs. Ohlendorf said persons needing assistance or information may call her at PL 5-0850.

THEFT REPORTED

Les Hendles of 331 Price Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that a portable television set, five pair of slacks and 10 sports shirts had been stolen from his home. He said the items were valued at a total of $300.

Free Ride May Cease

The town of Colma's free ride on the masthead of all literature of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce may come to a stop.

The board of directors last week decided to approach the Colma Council on the possibility of donating some money to the Chamber's treasury.

"The City of Daly City has always come through with a sizable donation," Chamber Manager Peter Markovich said. "But Colma has never given anything."

A delegation of chamber members, including some key Colma businessmen, will appear at a meeting soon to make the donation request.

Optimists Elect Slate of Officers

The Lake Merced Optimist Club has elected a new slate of officers. They are Ken Fahy, president; James Ryan, first vice president; Robert De Mattei, second vice president; Carl Davis, secretary; Alex McAllister, treasurer, and Duke LaMont, sergeant at arms.

New board of director members are Walter Brodie, Lou Gazzano and D. Charles Bates. The club meets every Tuesday at noon at the Sai Wu Gardens on Southgate Avenue.

Late Sports

The Farm Club League, the Daly City Department of Recreation's newest baseball league, will hold an organizational meeting at 1 p.m. Saturday at Thomas Edison, Colma School and Westlake School fields.

Three divisions of the league will be organized. It is open to boys in the 7 to 12 years of age group.

The league was tried on an experimental basis last season. Fourteen teams participated.

Coaches pitch to batters and no strikes or balls are called. Players are not allowed to wear spikes but must wear tennis shoes. No uniforms are worn and a record of wins and losses is not kept.

The Daly City Recreation Department's 1964 Baseball leagues will begin a schedule of practice games Saturday. Games will be played throughout the day at Westlake, Marchbanks and Colma fields.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS: THE CAUSE OF CAVITIES

The cause of cavities is not known, but most dentists agree sugar is considered as one of the possible factors. This is not the whole answer, but it is important to remember that if we are going to face facts, we may have to limit or even eliminate the sugar in our diet for the sake of our teeth. The problem is a great one. Among sugar containing items are many of the fruits, fruit juices, and vegetables. Even skimmed milk contains about 5% sugar. The list is almost endless, and includes such things as cookies, candies, soft drinks, pies, cakes, ice cream, jams, jellies, etc. Ask your dentist about the amount of sugar permissible for the health of your teeth. Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

DIFFERENT TREATMENT for veal chops — Ovenbake them with vegetables and spaghetti sauce.

Give Veal Chops A Savory Stuffing

There are other ways to cook chops besides broiling them. If you have thick chops cut with pockets, you can put a savory stuffing in each.

That's what is done in the following recipe. Cooked ham and mushrooms are used for the stuffing, then the chops are coated with a mixture of flour and Parmesan cheese and browned in a skillet. After that the chops are arranged on a bed of vegetables and a can of spaghetti sauce with mushrooms — the kind that has a tomato base — is poured over.

Then it's time for you to relax. The chops are baked in a moderate oven — no need to watch them.

You might like to serve his veal-chop dish with spaghetti mixed with butter. Add a green salad, some fruit and cookies for dessert, and you have it made.

STUFFED VEAL CHOPS WITH VEGETABLES

- 4 veal chops, 1½ inches thick
- ½ cup chopped cooked ham
- 2 tablespoons chopped mushrooms
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 2 tablespoons parmesan cheese
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup sliced carrots
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon oregano
- ¼ teaspoon basil
- 1 can (15½ ounces) spaghetti

sauce with mushrooms (tomato base)

Have a deep pocket cut in each chop. Mix together the ham and mushrooms. Stuff into pockets of chops. Push pocket openings closed. Mix flour and cheese and coat stuffed chops with the mixture. Melt butter in a skillet; add chops and brown on each side. Put the chopped vegetables in a baking dish (8 or 9 inches square and 2 inches deep). Put the chops on top of the vegetables. Sprinkle chops with salt, oregano and basil. Pour the spaghetti sauce around the chops. Cover and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour. Makes 4 servings.

DEFROSTING MEAT

Frozen meat may be thawed in the refrigerator, at room temperature or during cooking. The method used does not materially affect the flavor, tenderness or juiciness of the cooked meat.

QUICK FROSTING

Cream 1½ cups confectioners sugar with a three-ounce package of cream cheese and a teaspoon of vanilla for a quick cake frosting.

American milk is a rare find in Paris, and to buy it there has become one of the super-snob refinements of the season, reports a Paris correspondent for N. Y. Times.

A Hot Potato Gourmet Salad

Hot potato salad, everybody's favorite the year around, can be as sharp or as mild flavored as the cook wishes it to be, but it should be so good-tasting that it could serve as a main dish. Gourmet Potato Salad could be served as a main dish. It is piquantly flavored with bottled oil and vinegar dressing (use the Italian one for sharper flavor) and smooth, good-tasting, Miracle Whip Salad Dressing, which combines the best qualities of rich mayonnaise and old fashioned boiled salad dressing. The two dressings coax the sliced potatoes, flavoring vegetables, eggs, and cooked bacon to delectability in very little time. Like all hot potato salads, Gourmet Potato Salad appears and tastes best when served in the same skillet in which it was made — no extra tossing and transferring is done to destroy the beauty of each ingredient, and the salad stays warm until every last portion is served. Accompany the salad with frankfurters on buns and tall glasses of iced tea, if you wish, or serve it with a platter of sliced cold meats and cheese and hard rolls for a pleasant supper menu.

Gourmet Potato Salad

- ¾ cup chopped onion
- ¾ cup chopped green pepper
- ¾ cup Kraft Oil and Vinegar Dressing or Kraft Italian-style Dressing
- 1 quart sliced cooked potatoes
- ¾ cup Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
- 6 slices crisply cooked bacon, crumbled
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper

Cook onion and green pepper in liquid dressing until tender. Stir in remaining ingredients; heat.

Plan a "serve-yourself" supper for your family around steaming bowls of soup. The basis for this Vegetable Soup Italiano is canned condensed vegetarian vegetable soup. Rich with vegetables right from the can, thinly sliced strips of prosciutto ham and Parmesan cheese give it a unique flavor. Crusty bread goes along with a selection of relishes and a dessert of rhubarb and cookies.

Soup Will Serve Family Quickly

Spring arrives and members of the family continue their merry, hectic schedules . . . with a change of stimulus. Johnny has baseball practice. Betty is planning the spring prom. Mom has a nomination committee meeting, and Dad is utilizing the last hours of daylight to work in the yard.

Dash oregano. In saucepan, cook onion in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat to boiling; simmer a few minutes. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Main Course, Scallops and Asparagus

A great main-course combination. Scallops with Asparagus Crusty Rolls Salad Bowl Brownies Beverage Scallops With Asparagus 1 pound sea scallops, halved 2 tablespoons flour mixed with a pinch of salt and pepper ¼ cup olive oil and two tablespoons butter 1 clove garlic, crushed 1-3 cup minced parsley 1 lemon, quartered 1½ pounds fresh asparagus spears, cooked and hot Dry scallops and coat with flour mixture. In a large skillet, in the hot oil, butter and garlic, rapidly brown the scallops on all sides and cook through—a matter of minutes. Stir in parsley. Serve scallops and drippings, with lemon quarters, over asparagus. Makes four servings.

Strawberry Sundae Treat

Strawberry Sundaes will be popular for a dinner climax. Roast Lamb Potatoes Butter Snap Beans Salad Strawberry Sundaes Beverage STRAWBERRY SUNDAES 1 pint strawberries ¼ cup sugar 1½ pints vanilla ice cream Hull and wash strawberries; cut each into thirds. In a 1-pint saucepan stir to-sugar until sugar dissolves. Bring to a foamy boil; remove at once from heat and chill. Serve over ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

Supper, self-service style, is the perfect answer on these bright days. What is easier or more nourishing than a main dish of soup. Canned condensed soups make the meal a breeze to prepare as in this Vegetable Soup Italiano. Canned condensed vegetarian vegetable soup offers a tasty start with its flavorful broth and host of garden vegetables. Thinly sliced strips of prosciutto ham, sliced celery, and grated Parmesan cheese give it an Italian flavor. With a kettle of this great soup simmering on the range, each member of the family can eat at his or her convenience. Slice Italian bread for a "go-with" and serve a selection of crunchy relishes. A dessert of rhubarb and cookies can conclude the meal.

Vegetable Soup Italiano 2 slices (1 ounce) prosciutto ham, cut in 1-inch strips ¼ cup sliced celery ½ teaspoon oregano, crushed 1 tablespoon butter or margarine 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed vegetarian vegetable soup 1 soup can water Grated Parmesan cheese In saucepan, brown ham and cook celery and oregano in butter until celery is tender. Add soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then. Garnish with cheese. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Or, vary the family menu with another vegetable soup like this: Herbed Turkey Vegetable 1 tablespoon finely sliced green onion 2 teaspoons butter or margarine 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed turkey vegetable soup 1 soup can water
